Motorcyclist in critical condition following early morning crash

HANAMĀ'ULU — Kaua'i police responded Saturday morning to a motorcycle crash on Laukona Steet in Hanamā'ulu.

A 28-year-old LThu'e man was heading eastbound on his 2008 Suzuki motorcycle around 4:50 a.m when he lost control and struck a utility pole.

The man was transported from the scene by ambulance to Wilcox Hospital and later medevaced to The Queen's Medical Center on O'ahu where he remains in critical condition.

Laukona Street in the area of the crash was closed for approximately three hours this morning as KPD's Traffic Safety Unit conducted an investigation.

According to a preliminary report, speed appears to be a factor in the crash. A toxicology report is pending.
