The memo sets out a schedule of research, review, and suggestions of rules to change. This would be a lengthy process over a year to thoroughly look at rules and move to public rule making process, adaptation, and finalization. If they want to make one or two small changes to the rules to be in concert with the new legislation, they could start that this month. Member Burriss stated that the rules have been rather bare boned and questioned how involved they want to get into this other than fine schedule.

She stated that it has been problematic on the process of complaints and believes more clarity would be guidance to the Board. Member Shiraishi stated that she thinks that the aligning the rules with the new Charter Amendment should be done now, and that the rest of the rules could be done later and procedural guidance in the rules would be helpful. Administrator Ching suggested that the Board could look at establishing a Permitted Interaction Group (PIG) to look at a deep dive. Member Burriss asked if rules could be clearer to the general public. Administrator Ching stated that there could be a preamble created that mimics the language in the Charter, but that may not be clear to all. A solution could be developing a brochure that could describe the role of the Board. Vice Chair Latkiewicz entertained a motion to amend the Board's Rules and Regulations. Chair Burriss clarified that they could pluck out the things that need immediate attention and then do a deeper dive. Deputy County Attorney responded that they could do it simultaneously, two rounds of rulemaking, first round would make minimal changes to harmonize with new legislation and move forward with those changes, then a second round with a deeper dive. Could do it concurrently, begin to do research, but then do the first round now, or can stack up and do first round and then second round.	Member Shiraishi moved to amend the Board's Rules and Regulations and to start by taking a surgical approach and then doing a deeper dive. 	BOE 2021-35 Discussion and possible action on a disclosure/fine schedule. Deputy County Attorney Larrimore reminded the Board that there was some work done on a fine schedule that would go along with disclosures. He has done research on what was previously done and recommends that the Board rethink what exactly they are looking to achieve. Depending on what they may want to do would determine what they would need to work on. The Board discussed when to file, annually or upon hire or appointment and when there are changes. Concerns about volume of disclosures and having the resources for policing and reviews. Staff shared the practice of sending an email out annually reminding people to file if new and to refile if there is any changes.	Member Burriss moved to place on the next agenda to form a PIG to review a proposed fine schedule and present a proposed fine schedule.
