Red/blue manager exam, card fee to be collected April 1

LĪHU'E – The Department of Liquor Control reminds licensees and those involved with the management of any location licensed to sell alcohol that effective April 1, 2022, the Liquor Department will begin collecting a $20 fee for the red/blue manager card exam and card.

This fee is to comply with Rule 7.8(b)-(c) and Rule 10.2 (c)-(d) of the Rules and Regulation of the Liquor Control Commission.

All red/blue card course scheduling will continue to be entirely online at the liquor department website. The option to pay the fees for the exam and card will be available to pay online. Any member of management in charge of a licensed location and required to take and pass an exam as a requirement for employment will need to visit the County of Kaua'i Liquor Control Department website for further information on registering for the exam. Online spaces will be limited to 12 per session at this time in the morning and afternoon on each Wednesday, with additional classes being offered in the near future.

Participants in the online exam must be at least 21 years old and have an unexpired, unaltered, and undamaged government-issued photo ID. They are required to register at www.kauai.gov/Liquor.

Those without internet access can request to take the online exam at the Liquor Department by calling 808-241-4966. The availability to utilize online access to the course in our office will be limited and only available by appointment.
